

Help Support the Future of Bon Abbot's Wish List

The Abbot of Menri works tirelessly to complete the Menri complex. When the site was established in the 1960s, mud buildings on dusty, untamed land sheltered the early residents of the monastery and nearby Dolanji settlement. Since then, the Abbot, or Menri Trizin, has overseen the design and construction of an impressive spiritual and administrative center worthy of representing the Bon worldwide. The campus of religious, educational, and residential buildings, farm, and health center support a growing world outside. Built in traditional Tibetan style, the facility is supported by modern technology to insure that it functions efficiently. Surely history will remember our visionary 33rd Menri Trizin as "the master architect of Menri" but in the meantime, as he grows older, his efforts are accelerated to finish this great visionary work. The Bon Foundation joins others in seeking support to see the completion of Menri Monastery. This website will provide regular updates of the Abbot's Wish List to help him realize his dream. Please inquire at boninfo@bonfoundation.org for the current status of these projects.
